Content Description

This collection consists of photographs, letters, journals, and other written materials relating to the history of Hyrum and its settlers, as well as those of the greater Cache Valley and Utah areas. This collection is of particular interest to anyone doing family history in Hyrum, or anyone interested in the social, religious, geographical, economic, and business history of the area. These materials are held within 43 archival boxes, the materials of which have been organized into seven series by subject.

Series One contains seven boxes of files relating to family and personal histories of people who settled Hyrum. The files have been organized into alphabetical order, while the contents in each folder have been left in original order as they were held in Ted's personal collection.

Series Two includes six boxes of "place histories", or histories and information of various places in Cache Valley, Northern Utah, Idaho, and the surrounding areas. These too, have been placed in alphabetical order as often as possible.

Series Three holds files relating to committees, events, and other information about Ted Kindred's time working on historic preservation in Cache Valley. Organized into four archival boxes, these files are grouped together by organization.

Series Four consists of two boxes of The Clarion, the year book of the South Cache High school.

Series Five has three boxes of personal files and correspondence to and from Ted Kindred, family files, records of awards given to Ted, and Ted's handwritten notes.

Series Six includes four boxes of legal sized files, including some oversized family history files, photo albums and place histories that wouldn't fit into the boxes from Series One through Three and Seven.

Series Seven is made up of seventeen boxes of photographs and images relating to Hyrum families, businesses, events, city groups, and other related history. The first nine boxes of this series are organized by subject (i.e. family photos, event photos, historic homes and places, etc.) and then alphabetically when possible. Boxes ten through fourteen carry mounted photos of families, portraits, historic Hyrum businesses, events, city groups, and other related images. The last three boxes contain oversized photos and albums. The majority of the photos in this section are reprints.

Biographical Note

Theodore “Ted” Jack Kindred was born on December 22, 1918 in Kansas City Missouri to Henry H. and Joeett Helm Kindred. Shortly after, his family moved to Bentonville Arkansas where Ted’s father “developed kerosene-fired egg incubators” and later worked as a salesman for Maytag, the appliance company based in Iowa. In 1922, Ted’s family moved to Iowa to continue working for the Maytag Company because tubs costed “more to ship than to purchase.”

Throughout his youth and into the Great Depression era, Ted was a newspaper boy. He joined the Navy before World War II and served time during the War on both coasts, Australia, the Philippines, and New Guinea, where he helped evacuate missionaries.

During his time in Australia, Ted met Patricia “Pat” O’Keefe. After his discharge from the Navy, Ted married Pat on February 19, 1949 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Newton, Iowa. While the two established a home in Newton, Ted worked for Parsons Company and Pat worked for Maytag. Ted later worked at Solar Aircraft in Des Moines and in 1967 he took a job with Thiokol at Promontory, Utah.

After Ted took the job at Thiokol, he and Pat lived one year in Bear River City, then purchased a magnificent home on West Main Street in Hyrum. The house they purchased, historically known as “the house that eggs built,” had been built by Soren Hanson in the early 1900s. Over the years, the Kindreds entertained international students and several others from both in and outside of the community. Pat also opened an antique shop named the What-Not-Shop on Center Street which she and Ted operated for several years.

Ted retired from Thiokol in 1987, though he remained active in the community for many years afterward. He served as a Board Member of Cache Historical Society for many years, received the Hyrum Distinguished Citizen Award, and made numerous contributions to the Jensen Historic Farm. He also worked as a Cub Scout leader for the 3rd Ward in the Hyrum Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, PTA President at Lincoln Elementary School, Post 47 American Legion Commander, and served two terms on the Hyrum City Library Board. Ted was a member of the Knights of Columbus for several decades and served many roles as a parishioner of St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church in Logan.

Over the years, Ted became a well-known collector of Americana and a reputed Utah historian. His passion for preserving history led him to collect hundreds of documents relating to the history of Utah, Hyrum, and its pioneer families. He also played a pivotal role in the preservation of Hyrum’s Elite Hall, getting it placed on the National Historic Register, raising funds for its restoration, and bolstering community exhibits and events within its walls. He also played a vital role in initiating a permanent home for the city museum, protecting Hyrum’s historic Main Street, pioneer cabins, and securing funding for the Hyrum gazebo at the city square. In 1999, the Mormon History Association gave Ted the Thomas L. Kane Award for his work in locating and preserving photographs of the south end of Cache Valley, and for identifying and documenting the graves in the old Mt. Sterling Cemetery. He also worked to place the Soren Hanson home (where he and Pat lived) on the National Historic Register, “making it into a monument to his love of beautiful artifacts, fine books and furnishings.”

Pat and Ted had six children: Timothy Kindred, Rebecca Kindred, Kathleen Lake, Patricia Miller, Linda Pisano, and Jennifer Treiber. His wife Pat died in 2000, and his daughter, Jennifer, in 2008. Ted Kindred passed away on January 3, 2017.

A significant portion of his private collection, which once included thousands of volumes of books, photographs, antiques, and other records was donated to the Hyrum City Museum after his death.
