The South Cache Courier Collection also contains all issues of the South Cache Courier the museum received as part of the Ted Kindred Collection (accession # 2018.1).

Historical Note

The South Cache Courier was first printed on November 12, 1909. It was operated by John W. Harry of Smithfield and his assistant Alma Frank of Logan and its first editor was C. F. Olsen. Harry sold the paper to Jacob A. Wahlen, a printer in Hyrum, in 1910. Wahlen began operating in 1909 and printing the paper once a week on Fridays. He acted as editor and publisher of the Courier by himself for a few years, then with C.F. Olsen as editor. In 1925 Wahlen collaborated with Ralph R. Channel to transform the South Cache Courier into a Logan-based paper called the Cache Valley Herald. Wahlen left the endeavor rather quickly, it seems, because in October of 1926 he returned the South Cache Courier to Hyrum.

After 1926 the publication of the paper passed into several hands, including Leslie J. Christiansen in May of 1931, then LeRoy Wahlen (son of J.A. Wahlen), B. Dale Gibson, Mrs. J.A. Wahlen (widow of J.A. Wahlen), and several others. In 1939 the business was sold to Mrs. Cantril Nielsen with Mrs. Melinda Liljenquist as Editor.

In 1945 the Cantril Nielsen family moved to Pocatello and Gilbert McDowell became the publisher. Around 1948 McDowell stopped taking care of the Courier along with another valley newspaper, the Smithfield Sentinel. With no one to take up publication, the South Cache Courier slowly dropped out of print at that point.

Scope and Content of Collection

This collection contains several copies of the South Cache Courier from 1915 to 1949. The papers are organized chronologically. While most of the papers are intact, there are a few copies which are missing pages, or have articles cut out from the record. Each of these missing pieces are noted in the inventory. Additionally, there are several partial editions missing proper identifying dates or volume and issue numbers.
